the law was indeed well enforced, but determined overtheless to investigate for himself. He had not proceeded far before he found out to his entire satisfaction that the chief had either spoken through ignorsore, or cise a desire for some recessua to suppress the truth. The Health is inclined to believe the former. Therefore, acting upon that beine, it herowith publishes a little information for the careful perusal of the police department.

Sunday school at 10 a.m. each Sunday; chirch which is reached by a rickety staircase, is a large hast. Here is where the daily orawings of the two policy associations take place. In the center of the door, leading ions the hall, there is a small peep hole, but what it is for no one knows, as all the men connected with the shop declare they have no fear of the police. To the right of the entrance thore are two black boards, upon which are written the numbers as they are drawn from the wheel. In the front end of the ball there is a railing which eccloses a small office, behind which site the degraded creature whose business it is to rob the poor of their mency.

On a raised platform in the back of the room there are two large wheels, from which the numbers are drawn by a blindfolded boy. When the reporter entered it was close to 4 o'clock. There was a moticy assemblage walting for the drawing to occur.

"Viste me 2-19-22," exclaimed the negro who accompanied the reporter.

After leaving Price's the reporter made is way to the Monta Cristo eight store at 49 Second Souta. In a back room of the cight store there is a regular policy shop conducted by a man named Berins, who was at one time connected with the auditor's office of the Paul to a Hernald reporter Thursday afternoon.

On the afternoon in question a Hernald reporter started out to ascertain if possible, the exact number of policy shops that were running openly and in direct violation of the isw.

The efficers have been very loud in their declarations that they have suppressed all policy shops.

Oher Paul was first visited with the idea of finding out what knowledge, if any, the police had in regard to edge, if any, the police had is regard to poincy shops. The chief was very busy at the time of the visit, but very willingly agreed to tell all he knew about the subject. The following is the interview with the chief:

Chief Paul, The Herano is desirous of flading out to what extent the law for the suppression of policy alongs, is enforced. Will you say how many sheps there are in Sait Lake?

The culief remained silent for a moment and then answered: "Well, I know of but three and I am positive that is all there are in Sait Lake at the present time."

"Where are they situated, enief?"

"One is on State street, one over the Califoline, on Commercial street."

"If you are aware of the existence of these policy desires and to conficus them in the set."

"If you are aware of the existence of these policy desires and to conficuste them in the set."

"It would be more excusable. But the fact must be apparent to all, that the officers and that they are to be arrested periodically, when to run, with the understanding that they are to be arrested periodically, when they shall suffer a painty fine. It is no secund that they shall suffer a painty fine. It is no secund to continue the suppressed. The officers of the two associations would soon become tired of the basiness if they were arrested overy day."

The rou into believe that the officers in the will be suppressed. The officers of the two associations would soon become tired of the basiness if they were arrested overy day."

They therefore select deceptive names, the continue to the suppressed. The officers of the two associations would soon become tired of the basiness if they were arrested overy day."
